which will have a pop up with the ability to send a notification to the user in their profile that someone is interested in booking them for an event.

Add Categories Section based on each artists music genres. The user will then have the ability to sort our the artists by genre.

Venues will also be able to sort via VIP Discounts (if available), Music Stores, Production, Recording Studios, Affiliates.

Only Bands that are verified are able to send push notifications.

This will also be reflective on the application. We need to ensure the Push notification are functional.

Push Notifications will also have a new function and notification settings within the application. When you follow an Artist you will have the ability to select the notifications based on each artist or venue you follow.

ex. If a specific artist you follow adds an even and they are a premium artists they will have the ability to send push notifications to the users who want to receive notifications. On creation of the event it will send a push notification to the users who follow and allow notifications. Stating ARTISTS Just added a new event EVENT DETAILS.

Clicking this notification will bring you to that specific event. Giving the user the option to say if they are going to the event or not.

Secondly 12 hours before the event start time. There will be another notification sent out to the users allowing them to be notified of the event that night.

ex. ARTIST is having an event at VENUE at TIME are you going?
or something similar

I will need this whole platform cleaned up and functional 100% and updated to current php standards.
